

A charming, Grade II listed cottage in the heart of Hawarden. This Edwardian property was once the sorting office of the village post office, and the cottage still retains plenty of clues to its postal past, including an original safe with keys, letter plus pigeon holes. Explore the fascinating history of the surrounding village and relax in the inviting warmth of the hot tub after a day of adventures. Sleeps 2.