The summer programmes in the Hawarden area were delivered successfully, with positive attendance and engagement throughout. Children developed positive friendships and increased confidence in social situations through a range of group, child-led and imaginative play opportunities.

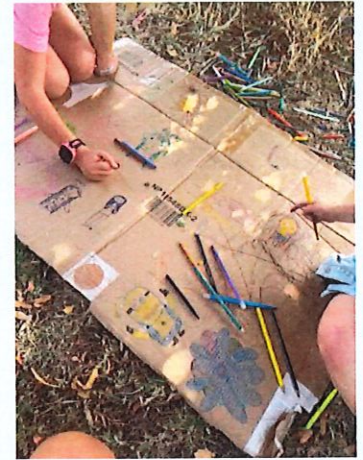

The zip line, roundabout and den building were particularly popular, providing opportunities for physical activity, creativity, teamwork and problem-solving. Team games encouraged communication, cooperation and inclusion, while arts and crafts supported self-expression, confidence and creativity.

Children demonstrated increasing independence through child-led play, including adapting equipment and creating their own games. Physical activities also supported coordination, active lifestyles and resilience.

Overall, the programme provided a safe, inclusive and engaging play environment where children could develop confidence, independence, social skills and creativity through a varied range of play experiences.

Afternoon

I believe there is a water main directly beneath the shelter on Old Aston Hill, that is in need of emergency repairs.

In order to carry out these repairs the removal of the shelter is required.

Can you please confirm if you are happy for Dwr Cymru to remove / demolish it?

Cofion Cynnes | Kind Regards
